

MORE GOLD THAN EVER.

An Increase in Production in Almost Every Gold Region.

The world's gold production for the last year will surpass any year in its history. The production of last year exceeded that of all previous years, and was reported by the mint bureau at $155,522,000.

The production for 1894 seems likely not to be less than $175,000,000, or a gain of nearly $20,000,000 over the figures of 1893. The principal gains have been in the United States, the Witwatersrand region of South Africa, in Australia and Russia.

It was evident last summer, says a Washington authority, that mining activity in Colorado and other western states would carry the production of this country for the year from $35,955,000 in 1893 to $42,000,000. It now looks as though the total would reach $45,000.

Director Preston has checked and pruned the estimates from the great mining states, but even with large reductions they indicate an increase of $4,750,000 in Colorado, $2,000,000 in California, $1,000,000 in Montana, and $800,000 in Idaho. Large gains are also reported in Oregon and Washington, for which exact figures have not been obtained.

The increase in the production of the Witwatersrand region has been steadily maintained for five years. The production of 1890 was 494,869 ounces, at about $17.50 an ounce; the production of 1891 was 729,338 ounces; of 1892, 1,210,508 ounces; of 1893, 1,478,475 ounces, and the estimated production for 1894 is 2,200,000 ounces. The complete figures have been received up to the close of November, and every month shows an enormous increase over the corresponding month of 1893, with an advance during the present year from 149,314 ounces in January to 175,309 ounces in November. The value of this product was about $26,000,000 in 1893, and will be about $38,000,000 in 1894. Other portions of America are expected to show slight gains, but they produced in the aggregate only about $3,000,000 worth.

Australia, which shows a production in 1893 of $85,688,000, is credited with an increase of $3,000,000 in 1894.

The Russian empire was credited in the last mint report with the same production in 1893 as in 1892, which was $24,806,300. Official figures since received show an increase in 1893 of about $1,500,000, and it is thought that this will rise to $2,000,000 for the present year.

These gains alone will swell the world's production by $26,000,000, and would make an aggregate of more than $181,000,000, if no losses were indicated in other countries. It is expected that such a loss may occur in China, where the product in 1893 was $8,426,000, on account of the war with Japan. Even a large loss there would leave the world's production above $175,000,000, and would exceed the most sanguine estimates made by Director Preston in his last report on the production of the precious metals.

Mr. Preston is endeavoring to keep his estimates within conservative bounds, for he does not wish to make a larger claim than the facts will finally warrant; but it would seem that his estimate for this year of $170,000,000 was certain to be largely exceeded.

STREETCAR POLITENESS.

Men Who Are Standing Will Surrender Rights to a Seat Almost Invariably.

"Have you ever noticed," asked an observing young woman, "how much politer men are who are standing up in streetcars than men who are sitting down?"

I confessed that I had not, says a New York Herald writer.

"Well, you watch, and you will find out that I am right. It is comparatively seldom that I enter a crowded car and have a man rise to offer me his seat. Most men settle themselves comfortably, stick their noses more deeply into their newspapers and pretend they don't see me hanging fast to the strap. But if anyone should then vacate a seat and a man was standing by it, the chances are fifty to one that he would beckon me to come over and take it rather than sit down himself.

"Now, this isn't imagination. I've noticed it scores of times. I think men go on the principle that 'possession is nine-tenths of the law,' or rather, I might say, nine-tenths of politeness. What a man has he keeps, and he says: 'Hang politeness!' But if he is already standing it is just as easy for him to keep on standing, and in that case politeness has some show with him.

"I'm not talking nonsense now," she went on, with a merry laugh. "I'm talking fact, and if you don't believe it you can easily get proof for yourself."

Cigars of Brown Paper.

Paper cigars are one of the most recent forms of adulteration in Germany, where two manufacturers have been punished for making them. In one case only the outside leaf consisted of tobacco, the rest of the cigar being composed of brown paper previously steeped in tobacco juice and then dried. In the other case the cigar maker had actually entered in a contract with a paper manufacturer to make for him a special kind of brown paper with tobacco remnants and paper pulp, the sheets being afterward cut into strips and rolled into the form of cigars.
